Solares and Casas no Campo - an invitation for Summer holidays in Portugal

TURIHAB, the Portuguese manor house association has two new proposals for a great holiday. Quinta da Moita Longa in Lourinhã is the new member of Solares de Portugal (www.solaresdeportugal.pt) and Quinta do Covanco in Alenquer is the more recent member of the Casas no Campo (www.casasnocampo.net).

Quinta da Moita Longa is the new member of Solares de Portugal

In the 2nd century Quinta da Moita Longa was a roman villa. In the 12th century was a property of the Knight Templars and since 1434 a royal forest of the kings of Portugal.

The Quinta da Moita Longa is an old aristocratic estate, secluded from the outer world and situated in the midst of a wild natural scenery with deciduous and fruit trees. There is just one 2 km long forest track that leads to the estate which is enclosed by a garden and meadows. There is an idyllic wood glade nearby, where you will find a small waterfall. A chapel from the seventeenth century also belongs to the estate.

Besides the birds singing, all you can hear is the wind rustling in the trees. This place is a paradise for children as they can enjoy most thrilling adventures all day round and the parents do not have to worry about them at all.

Quinta da Moita Longa offers to guest 3 bedrooms and 1 apartment for 2 people, with prices from 80 € per bedroom/night, with breakfast included..

The house has all modern conveniences, but it is furnished with stylish, antique furniture. In both main buildings you will find a large living room with a beautiful fireplace, where you can relax in the evening after an eventful day.

On the whole, there are three double bedrooms with own bathrooms, and a separate small house (traditionally called a Casalinho) available for rent.

Quinta do Covanco, near Lisbon, integrate the new brand "Casas no Campo"

The "Quinta do Covanco" situated next to the historic town of Alenquer is characterised by a rural architectural style, deriving from the farming activities first developed here in the past, most notably the growing of vines...

Located at 30km from Lisbon, allowing you to have a thoroughly deserved few days' break as well as getting to know other historic sites that are worth visiting such as Lisbon, Sintra, the Mafra and Queluz Convents, Óbidos, Nazaré, Tomar, Fátima...

Quinta do Covanco dates back to the XIX century and is marked by a rural architectural style derived from the agricultural activities my grandfather performed in the past, mainly vines. This imposing infrastructure was adapted to provide every comfort and a family atmosphere to those who visit us... The farm is able to offer you the pleasure of comfortable accommodation, the tranquil surrounding countryside and a relaxed family atmosphere where you will have the chance to experience tasty home-cooked meals.

Quinta do Covanco offers to guest 6 bedrooms, with prices from 70 € per bedroom/night, with breakfast included..

After a lovely night's sleep, there's nothing like a lovely breakfast where mother Teresa's homemade cakes and compotes are the highlight – cannot be missed. A stroll through the Quinta could be the next part of the day, or a visit to the historic town Alenquer and Montejunto Mountain, or simply enjoy some of the best Portuguese wines on the Wine trail or the West's beautiful beaches like Peniche, Santa Cruz, Nazaré and the Berlengas islands – a maritime nature reserve of rare beauty - are particularly noteworthy.

To bring such a lovely day to an end, you can enjoy a lovely home cooked meal, a drink in front of a relaxing hearth or even adventure out to sample the good gourmet cuisine of the municipality's restaurants. Know more in www.casasnocampo.net
